PROJECTS

Scholarship Management Platform — Full-Stack Web Application

- Built a full-stack scholarship management application using React.js, Node.js, Express.js, and MongoDB, covering the complete flow from UI to database.
- Developed a responsive, user-friendly frontend with React.js, HTML, CSS, and JavaScript to simplify the scholarship application process for end users.
- Designed a Node.js/Express.js backend to handle API requests, application logic, and secure communication between the frontend and database.
- Used MongoDB as a NoSQL database to store and manage application data in a flexible, document-oriented format, supporting scalable data access.
